Terms & Conditions

1. I am only allowing one vendor from each of the different sales companies (such as Pampered Chef, Scentsy, Tupperware, etc.). The first that get their application in and paid for from each will reserve their space for this show.
2. Unfortunately, we are NOT allowing food or drink vendors. With the Carnival going on, we don't want to compete with them.
3. Spaces are 10'x10' with no electricity, and tents are recommended as this is an outdoor event. Vendors will need to provide their own tables, chairs and tents. None of these items will be available or provided.
4. Please keep your area clean of all trash and garbage. Do not leave anything behind but the flags used to mark off the spaces. If I have to clean up trash from your space after you've left, I will send you a bill for $25.
5. Whitton's Creations and Lee County Fair are not responsible for any items that are lost, stolen, broken, etc from this event. If you need to leave your space for any reason, please try and have someone keep an eye on things. However, if you need me to help keep an eye on your space, let me know! I will do everything I can to make this enjoyable for everyone there!
6. Please, please, please no early tear downs. Once one person starts to pack up then it is a domino effect. Let's make sure the first guest gets the same experience as the last guest. Those who tear down early without prior approval will not be invited back to any future shows.
7. Once you have your application submitted, feel free to send me a blurb about your company and how you came to be! I will be making posts on the event page about all of our different vendors. If you don't want to type anything up, I will put something together based on what you have given me from above and that's perfectly fine.

8. Please share, Share, SHARE this event! This will be heavily marketed on social media and hung up in local businesses. So please share, share, share!! If you would like some printed flyers mailed to you to pass out or to put in your business please let me know! I will gladly send you advertising material! Also, please invite everyone to the event page as well so they can see all the amazing vendors we will be having!
9. At the end of the day, let's all have an amazing time and make this a great event that we can do again next year!
